

OUR RESPONSE TO COVID

Ludlum Systems prime focus during these challenging times is the health, safety and wellbeing of our employees and those we work alongside – our customers and our supply chain partners.

We are continuously monitoring the developing situation making sure we are doing everything we can to keep our people safe, whilst also making sure that the ongoing role we play in the nuclear sector, both power generation and decommissioning, is able to continue. Government advice is adhered to and discussed with our employees to ensure a common understanding of what is being recommended.

All employees that can work from home are doing so. Most of our services are critical and many of our employees continue to work on sites across the UK supporting our customers' critical operations. We are working closely with our customers and other stakeholders to ensure that our employees are kept safe as we carry out our critical support roles, and we continue to implement additional measures to ensure the safety of our employees and sites in line with government policies.

We are working closely with customers to develop prioritised plans which ensure we can continue to deliver the services they need safely.

We are continuing to monitor this situation and will keep all stakeholders updated on developments as appropriate.
